PLEASANTON, CA, September 23, 2011 /24-7PressRelease/ -- ManageEngine, makers of the globally renowned suite of cost-effective network, systems, applications and security management software solutions, today announced its 2011 Fall user conferences. In cities from Stockholm to Dallas, ManageEngine will be engaging with users from its worldwide customer base of more than 50,000 organizations. Attendees will learn about the company's vision of real-time IT and how it can enable them to respond to the accelerating demand for real-time technologies and real-time support within their organizations.

"Real time IT is all about enabling IT to make the most of emerging real-time technologies as well as enabling IT to deliver real-time services to organizations that are operating at an ever-increasing pace," said Raj Sabhlok, president of ManageEngine, a division of ZOHOO Corporation. "It's a game-changer both for IT teams and for the organizations they support."

ManageEngine is delivering products today that incorporate this vision. Its IT360 integrated dashboard provides users with a consolidated, real-time view of an organization's IT infrastructure and its key business processes. It offers a "single pane of glass" through which a user—even a non-technical user—can monitor not only all the organization's IT assets but also monitor the health of key business processes, such as e-commerce sales conversions and quotation systems.

ManageEngine offers its products on-demand as well as deployed on-premise or via managed service providers. With the forthcoming integration of collaboration and social technologies from sister division Zoho, as well as enhancements that extend this "single pane of glass" out to roaming real-time devices such as the iPhone, IT organizations around the world will be able to provide their clients with the kind of always-aware, always-engaged and always-responsive support that they need.
